—Work of building a new safety deposit vault for the Merchants Bank and Trust Company, George & Oakes contractors, and of removing the interior of the old house, is well advanced, entailing an expenditure of over $12,000. It is a splendid piece of work and quite an improvement. It is planned to have a formal opening of the vault to the depositors on the night of May 8. The depositors are invited, and the public will be issued. President Geo. R. Rea, the board of directors and other stockholders, as well as the public in general, are justly proud of the new facilities of the city of Bay St. Louis.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Mozelle Duffy Cullinane, wife of Harry Cullinane, of Gulfport, who was struck by an automobile on the night of April 18, when she attempted to cross a street in that city, died from her injuries Tuesday at the King's Daughters' Hospital, Gulfport. Mrs. Cullinane was 36 years of age and is survived by her husband and two daughters. She was a native of Water Valley, Miss.

NEW DORMITORY.

Directors of Gulf Park College met at Long Beach this week and awarded a contract for the construction of a new dormitory. Growth of the college has made it necessary for the institution to increase its facilities.

Jackson was taken from the jail at Poplarville by a masked band of men and carried to the bridge over Homochitto creek near Picaune, where he was hanged. Jackson's body was found hanging to a girder of the bridge a few hours afterward and taken to Picaune, where an inquest was held. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Jackson came to his death at the investigation. The jury went to work and continued the inquiry for nearly a week, but were unable to secure any evidence against the lynchers.

The Gulfport Rotary Club will carry out an appropriate program during the week of May 2 to 8, in observance of boys' week. A committee is now arranging suitable programs for each day, which will be closed with activities by Boy Scout troops.

PRIZE FOR A SLOGAN.

Readers of The Sea Coast Echo who wish to do so have an opportunity to compete for a $50 prize. The Gulfport Chamber of Commerce has offered a prize of $50 to the person that offers the best slogan for Gulfport. The contest is now on; it is open to the wide world, and closes Friday night, May 7. The name of the winner will be announced May 10. A committee of judges will award the prize.

Gulfport is the chief port of Mississippi, and is a resort as well as a commercial center. The Chamber of Commerce wants a catchy slogan to appear on its literature and to advertise Gulfport, one that will be expressive and at the same time attract attention. Something short and snappy is desired.

No strings are tied to the prize. The money will go to the person that submits the best slogan.

Letters containing suggested slogans should be addressed to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Gulfport, Miss.

About the easiest job in the world is being king of Italy.

To keep flies away next summer, swat their great-grandparents now.

Some people are so modest that they shrink from facing the naked truth.

Tolerant men concede the right of others to make fools of themselves.

Those who make this same mistake over and over again lack originality.

General Butler possibly got his bad teeth from too close association with the Volstead law.

By the time a fellow gets up the courage to tell his love it isn't news to her any more.

Looks as though the farmers will have to worry along without Muscle Shoals fertilizer this season.

Our belief is that the fellow who advanced the idea of killing two birds with one stone was a nature fakir.

An inferiority complex is a state of mind that causes a fellow to throw down the best hand in a poker game.

Candidates never need to invent new tricks to fool the people, because the old ones still work as well as ever.

A writer declares that density of population will lead to future wars. Density of alleged statesmen has led to former ones.

A Brooklyn man believed that his wife was an angel, but didn't suspect that his chauffeur was one, until they flew away together.

In line with the movement to abolish all battle hymns, we assume that the wedding marches of Wagner and Mendelssohn must also go under the ban.

Charles Agnew, of St. Paul, Minn., complained to a court that his wife wasted the money he gave her, admitting later that it was only $2.50 a week.

Those two New York newspaper men who were lost for two days in the Dismal Swamp in Virginia should now have more sympathy for yokels who visit the metropolis.

Quantity output at low cost has again been illustrated. The Legal Aid Society of New York obtains divorces for clients at a fee as low as 25 cents and handled 878,346 cases last year.

Congressman Upshaw, of Georgia, proposes to create a government censorship of moving pictures which might be a good thing for some. At any rate for those who would get the nice new federal jobs.

Heathen Hawaiian natives offer sacrifices to the fire goddess to stop the flow of lava from the Mauna Loa volcano, and we laugh. A Southern governor calls upon the people to pray for rain, and they pray. Hawaiian natives are superstitious.

Erick Muller dropped dead from heart disease, falling with his head in Germany and his feet in Czechoslovakia. Complications arose over securing a burial permit and it is said that the body may yet have to be examined because the Czechoslovakian half was interred without proper authority.

BRICK PLANT NEEDED.

With the large amount of building and construction work that is under way and projected on the Gulf Coast, it is strange that some person or corporation does not establish a brick and tile manufacturing plant at some point on the Coast. There is not a brick and tile making factory on the entire Coast. All of that class of building material is imported from other sections.

Reports of the State geological department, show that there is an abundance of clay in the Coast section that is suitable for making high-grade brick and tiling. The raw material is here if somebody will put in the plant.

Before the Civil War and for many years thereafter large quantities of brick were made on the Gulf Coast. Some of the buildings in New Orleans were built out of Gulf Coast brick.

Large quantities of clay can be found on the banks of Jordan River, Rotten Bayou, Wolf River, Bayou Portage and Bayou Johnson, in the vicinity of Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian, and along the banks of Biloxi River, Bayou Bernard and the Tchoutabouffa River, in the Biloxi district, that is suitable for brick and tiling.

About 5,000,000 brick were used on the Gulf Coast last year, according to reliable information obtained from responsible sources. During that period building operations were not on a large scale. Now they are on a huge scale. At least 10,000,000 brick will be used on the Coast this year.

Isn't it about time for somebody to organize a company to build a brick and tile manufacturing plant and thus establish another permanent industry on the Coast?

BATHING FOR KIDDIES.

New Orleans newspapers have had a lot to say lately about bathing pools for children in that city. The papers are very insistent that something be done about it. And they are right. Children should have ample bathing facilities.

If New Orleans parents and guardians can not get the privileges that they are asking for children in the city, they are invited to send the kiddies to Bay St. Louis. Bay St. Louis has the biggest kind of a bathing pool, and it is ready for use. There is room in the Bay and in the Sound for all the children that New Orleans can send over here.

Bay St. Louis has among the best bathing and swimming "holes" in the whole country. And they are perfectly safe for young and old.

BARGE LINE SERVICE.

The Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce is making an effort to induce the Mississippi-Warrior Line to handle freight to and from that point. Barges plying between the Warrior River and New Orleans pass directly in front of all Mississippi Coast towns. Bonds were voted recently for the construction of a municipal pier at Pass Christian, and the Pass City Council will be asked to build the pier so that it can be used by the barge line in handling freight.

It would be well for Bay St. Louis to take up the Warrior barge line question and ascertain if the barges can be induced to make regular stops here. If a barge service will help Pass Christian it will help Bay St. Louis.

DEPEW TELLS A STORY.

Chauncey M. Depew, chairman of the board of the New York Central, and former United States senator, was 92 years old on April 23, and is perhaps the most active man of his age now living.

His connection with the New York Central, which celebrated its 100th anniversary with a banquet a few days ago, extends over more than sixty years, of which he was thirteen years its president and twenty-seven years chairman of the board. At the banquet Mr. Depew made a notable speech, in which he recounted some of the changes which have taken place during the period of his long life, and told interesting stories of the pioneer railroad builders. One story concerned Dean Richmond, an old-time president of the road, and was greatly enjoyed by the guests.

Mr. Depew said: "Dean Richmond was the acknowledged leader of the Democratic party in New York. His handwriting was so bad that he could not read it himself. A Bishop wrote to him for a pass. Richmond answered, declining, in his own handwriting. The Bishop thought it was a life compliment, and so did the conductors on the road. The Bishop was riding free successfully for many years."

In a survey covering Missouri, California, Pennsylvania, Montana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Georgia and New York it was found that in ten years 88 daily newspapers in these eight States have abandoned their allegiance to political parties and are now independent. Politicians will doubtless view this trend with grave alarm.

VETERANS OF 1898.

The House recently passed a bill increasing the pension of veterans of the Spanish-American War, of the Philippine Insurrection and the Chinese Boxer Rebellion. It was a worthy measure, passed without a dissenting vote.

In a brief but able speech in behalf of the measure, Congressman Almon, of Alabama, said:

"It will not be denied that the veterans of other wars have been more generously treated than the veterans of the Spanish War. I am glad to know that the prospects are now so favorable for the correction of this injustice. It was the only American war in which all of the soldiers were volunteers. The records of the War Department show that there were more casualties according to the number involved than in either the Civil or World Wars.

Those statements are entirely correct. While the Spanish War was looked upon as a small affair, it meant more in risk of life to the participants than any war in our history.

Out of less than 12,000 men on the firing line in the battle of Santiago on July 1, 1898, the American casualties in killed and wounded totaled 1,541 men, or approximately 13 per cent in one day's fighting. Other thousands died of typhoid and malaria fevers, while many suffered permanently impaired health.

This tardy act of injustice to the surviving veterans and their widows should meet with universal approval.

OPPOSE SMALLER BILLS.

Bank tellers are voicing opposition to the proposal of the Treasury Department to reduce the size of paper currency by making bills three-eighths of an inch narrower and three-quarters of an inch shorter. Several very good reasons are advanced for opposing the suggested change.

It is declared that difficulty in counting would result from mixing old sizes with the new; that unformed foreigners in America would be confused and likely to imagine that the new bills were counterfeit; that a similar difficulty would arise in passing the smaller-sized bills abroad; that handing two sizes of bills in cash registers and tills, as well as carrying them in bill-folds, would lead to loss of time and the possibility of counting out large bills with smaller ones concealed between them, and so on.

It is not believed that any advantage which might arise from the adoption of the smaller size would offset the objections noted, especially as several years would elapse before all those of the present size could be retired from circulation.

Few of us habitually carry around a sufficient number of paper bills to make their present size and weight any serious hardship.

DRAINAGE DISTRICTS PROPOSED

Organization of drainage districts for the purpose of eradicating mosquitoes, to reclaim marsh and low lands that are now virtually worthless, and to improve sanitary conditions in general on the Gulf Coast, is the purpose of a movement launched by the Mississippi Coast Club at a meeting at Gulfport last week.

A committee was appointed to investigate the situation, to work out plans and to submit recommendations. The committee is composed of R. L. Simpson, Gulfport, chairman; J. L. Heiss, city attorney, Gulfport; J. B. Converse, supervising engineer of the Edgewater Gulf Hotel; Dr. D. J. Williams, health officer of Harrison county; H. D. Shaw, engineer of the Sea Wall Commission; W. H. Bouslog, Bouslog Realty Company; O. O. Carpenter, engineer of Holmhaven-on-the-Gulf; John J. Kennedy, Mayor of Biloxi; J. W. Milner, Mayor of Gulfport; Louis Braun, realtor, Biloxi; and Walter H. White, manager of the White House, Biloxi.

It is proposed to begin first in the Gulfport and Biloxi areas and to later extend the drainage plans to other sections of the Coast. Existing State laws provide for the creation of drainage districts. The plan is to operate under these laws and pay the cost by drainage taxes.

GREAT BUSINESS IDEAS.

For brilliant business ideas, commend us to Uncle Sam. Faced with the necessity of increasing the postal revenues, he hit upon the happy expedient of raising rates, but without any semblance of consistency.

For example, the rate for private mailing cards, furnished by the post-office patron, who also likes the stamps, a fee of 2 cents is charged. Yet, for the government postal card, the cardboard with stamp imprinted furnished by the government, only 1 cent is required.

Result: While 1,250 million postcards were mailed at 1 cent in 1924, the estimate for 1926 is only 200 million under the 2-cent rate.

The postoffice department regretfully admits that "the expected increase in revenue from postcards has not been realized."

Disappointing, isn't it?

Highest in Quality Lowest in Price

The finest steels available are used in the manufacture of Ford cars. The plate glass for windshields and windows is as perfect as can be made. Upholstery material contains a larger percentage of wool than is ordinarily specified—even for much higher priced cars. The basic features of Ford design have never been improved upon by any manufacturer.

No other car offers greater dependability. The Ford car has won the favor of millions of users, under every conceivable motoring condition. Its convenience is known and appreciated the world over; its performance is taken for granted.

Such quality is possible at Ford prices because every operation, from mining of ore to final assembly, is under direct control of the Ford Motor Company.

Iron is taken from Ford mines in Michigan; coal from the Company's mines in Kentucky and West Virginia. Glass comes from Ford glass plants; wood from Ford timber tracts in the North. Raw materials and finished products are carried over the Company's own transportation routes; coke ovens, blast furnaces, a steel mill, foundries and saw mills—all are part of this complete organization. There are even salvage plants, paper mill, cement plant, etc., to transform waste materials into useful by-products.

In this way every possible economy is effected. Under no other circumstances could Ford quality be had at Ford prices.

ROCK-A-CHAWS LICK LOYOLA.

Capture Double Bill on Sunday—La Nasa and Collier, With Wonder Team Behind Them, Have Wolves at Their Mercy—Big Zeke Bonura Gets Two Homers—Schwartz Gar-ners One.

It's over, fellows and listening folks, what? Why, nothing less than the Loyola bomb, of course. It wasn't a bomb, only a "Dud"—one of these harmless things that has no more force than Dier Kiss powder. What did explode, Miss Mary, was a bunch of Rock-a-Chaws, those pesky things that leave their sting for a long time afterwards. The explosion thereof caused a peck of stickers to get tangled in the wool of the wolves and there was pell to hang among the animals.

It all happened on the Loyola campus, and when the double battle was over the whole advantage was with the U. N. V. was hors de combat, and the main man, Mr. Bobby Dunbar, who assayed the iron man stunt again, wasn't even in class "A" for a rag pickers' parade. He did start off in good shape and at the close of the first game could have worn a boutonniere with grace, but he went into the second fray and at its close all he needed was a yard of heavy crepe to represent a funeral.

Never in the history of old Stanislaus did a Rock-a-Chaw team show up to greater advantage than these boys did in New Orleans last Sunday. They played no less than league ball, the whole crew of them. These prep school boys played a game that would have caused even the board of a Connie Mack palace, and they repaid former Gators for all the work they had done for them.

La Nasa Wins Duel.

Being La Nasa was sent in to pitch the first game, pitted against the eleven, at eleven, Bob Dunbar, and I was a hard nut out of which the wonderful Jimmy emerged victor.

When the rules into consideration the fact that in the second inning of the game, the ball was hit by La Nasa, and that until the sixth period no man hit safely, one can readily perceive the class of ball he was doing out. Jimmy allowed Sullivan, the first man up, free transportation, but he did not in a double play on the next man up. The result of the initial station was vacant till the sixth inning, when the Wolves shot a brace of two suckers and scored their only tally.

In reference to this initial station, let us pause to remark that we have never seen the ball played better than that Montz did. He accepted everything that came his way, which was an even dozen without a wobble. It will be noted that La Nasa got seven assists to his credit, which clearly proves to the fan just what kind of juice Jimmy was pumping.

How the Runs Came.

The fraying process started in the third period. Fernandez went out, short to first. La Nasa was given a free ticket; Rinaldo sent a single to left; Blouin neatly sacrificed; and Bonura singled to center, scoring La Nasa and Rinaldo, but got out when he attempted to stretch the hit into a double.

In the next spasm the Rocks added another run when Blauz singled to right and stole second; and was advanced to third on Montz' bingle to center. Toups flew to left, but Fernandez sent out a screacher that scored Blauz.

The Wolves got their smell-in in the sixth, when, with two down, Dunbar doubled to right and was followed by Sullivan's two-bagger, which scored him. Vorhoff ended the agony by flying to Schwartz.

They attempted a rally in the seventh with one down when Smith singled to left, but a fast double play, Schwartz to Bonura to Montz, signed the death warrant.

SECOND GAME.

"Cotton" Collier Invincible—Three Homers, Two by Bonura and One by Schwartz, Feature—Dunbar Pounded Hard—Fernandez' Great Peg.

The second game of the double-header found Collier on the mound, and it incidentally found another master of the Loyola Wolves at hand. Collier pitched an airtight game wherein the erstwhile hard hitting Varsity were permitted but a measly brace of safeties, which came in the third inning and accounted for their only scores. Otherwise the mighty Cotton had the animals eating out of his hands as gentle as kitchen tabbies.

Collier's twirling was of a remarkable variety and it simply showed up his Southern League aspirant opponent. The boy mixed them up in such a variety that it took the heart out of Loyola's groovers. They scored only in the third on a walk, a single and a triple. Thereafter they were never dangerously near.

Schwartz's Skyrocket.

Mar-hie Schwartz began the fence "ustin" in the second inning, when he caught one in the groove and sent it sayward towards right field and it landed in a neighbor's back yard for a circuit of the bases. That was the beginning of the end for Mister Dunbar. Every Rock-a-Chaw got his eye poked on the right field fence with a yearning expression.

Big Zeke Duplicates.

In the very next inning, with one on, Bonura looked over towards the right and measured the fence, after allowing a couple of balls to pass unheeded, he found one to his liking and sent it among the buzzards for a four-our stroll, with Blouin Blouin ruling the first section and going a Charleston towards the rubber.

They took all the "Ferro" out of the iron man and he wilted like a fog-begotten in New McGure's kitchen. Another thing that helped to melt the iron was the big league stuff the Rock-a-Chaws were putting off. One of the finest peps you ever lapped was made in the third inning by Fernandez out in the left canon, namely: Mitchell had a walk, Dunbar hit a single to center and Vorhoff out on a triple, scoring the two; Bonura up hit a long fly to Spanish America, which Fernandez gathered in neatly; as he touched the ball, Vorhoff hit out for home, but Fernandez shot the ball from the left and accuracy that he caught the flying Vorhoff two feet away from the plate. Blauz's handling of the catch was also a masterpiece.

You simply can't get away from such fielding as that.

Bonura's Second Homer.

In the sixth inning, Big Zeke again grabbed the willow and looked towards the pretty green right field fence. There was no one on bases, but the big "oy just didn't feel like having to chase around in any hurry, so he sized up the iron man, smiled a smile and slammed the pill on a fear-northern journey for another nice ambulating trip wherein he took his time and no one minded by some promising fielder getting in his way.

That Scorchy Seventh.

The Rocks had already iced and salted the game away, but they've a funny way about them when the seventh inning shows up. They seem to think that this particular period belongs to them, and they always get on a big rally then. So it was when the inning came this time, they got hilarious and wedded into Mr. D. rightfully, netting four hits and five runs, viz: Toups hit a javn mower to Nick Pettigean at short; Nick threw the pill away in a wild effort to catch the flying Toups, and the latter took second. Fernandez laid down a bunt that took the enemy by surprise, and Toups took the hot corner, coming home when Cotton singled to right. By fast sprinting, Rinaldo beat out an infield hit; Blouin hit to pitcher, who made a bad peg to second to catch Rinaldo, all safe.

The bags were now full and the champion javelin heaver of America grabbed an oversized club and ambled to the rubber. When Mister Dunbar saw who was coming—well, he knew somebody was due to be knocked for a row of clothespins, and that somebody was Bob himself, so as discretion is the better part of valor, the wily Dunbar sent a slow one that lanced on Zeke's sixth rib, forcing him to cross the plate. Schwartz singled to right, scoring Rinaldo and Blouin, but was caught off first; Blauz hit safe to center, scoring Zeke. Matt ended the agonizing slaughter by pepping to third.

So far in both games the Rocks had gone errorless and it was a bit unfortunate that in the last spasm Marchie committed one, but he quickly made good by a fast double play that buried all chances Loyola could have entertained.

DUD CARVER WINS OVER GOMEZ

Local Pug Makes Hit in Mobile.

Fighting in the semi-final of the Red Herrin-Larry Avera mill at Mobile, on Tuesday last, with Adam Gomez as his opponent, Dud Carver, the "Pride of the Bay," came back strong to his old form and administered a decisive beating to his old-time enemy in eight very fast and well fought rounds.

By his clean and clever fighting, Carver got a foot on the nose of old Mobile and they gave the lad a glad hand when he was given the decision.

It was all Carver, from gong to gong the lanky lad carried the scrap to Adam, and in several instances it looked as if the Biloxi fighter was ready to bite the proverbial apple. He weathered some hard ones to the jaw that came from very near the amen-corner. Dud kept after Gomez, crowding him into one corner after the other, sending over hooks, jabs and swings that kept Gomez on the defensive practically all the time.

Carver's science was apparent from the start and the crowd of fully three thousand fans vigorously applauded the skill with which he ducked all that Adam could send over.

Gomez reached Carver's face but twice during the clear rounds, once to the mouth and again to the eye, but both blows counted nil, as they were either spent bullets or they had no driving power behind them.

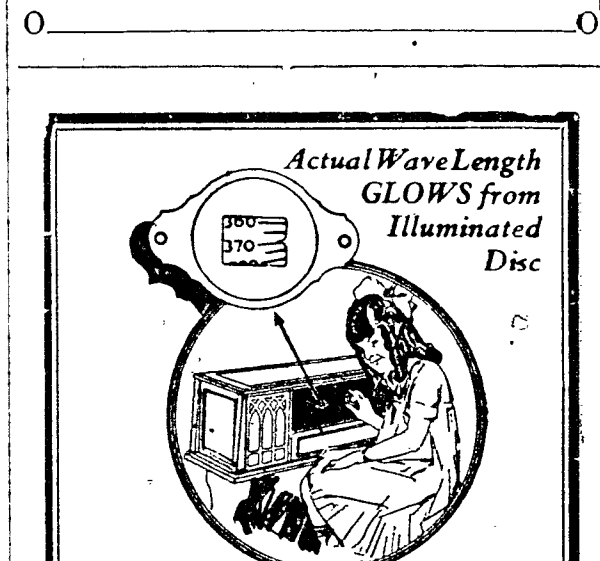

In the fourth round Gomez came near spilling the beans; he made a rush towards right field and swung a hard right in the general direction of the head, but Carver ducked and countered with a right and left poke to the jaw, following it with an uppercut; it dazed the Biloxi boy and the clouds began to form. Gomez had enough to do to keep away from these flying fists till the gong gave him rest.

The seventh and eighth rounds found Dud chasing Adam; Carver was boring in for a chance to put over a haymaker, but Gomez covered so that Dud couldn't get the marker.

Carver is now under the management of an experienced and capable man, in the person of Bob Murphy, of Gulfport, who will do his utmost in grading Dud into the topnotcher in a development that can be looked for, as Dud is ready to listen to any man who proves that he knows his line. Murphy knows the game and will do wonders with the Bay's pride.

St. Stanislaus Echoes

Loyola Games.

Sunday evening our Rock-Chaws went out to New Orleans to play Loyola a double-header. The hard hitting Loyola players were helpless against the masterful pitching of La Nasa and Collier, and Stanislaus took both games, 8 to 1 and 10 to 2.

In the first game the Rock-Chaws scored in the third inning; La Nasa walked. La Nasa went to second on Rinaldo's single and came home when Collier sacrificed. Rinaldo crossed the plate when Zeke singled. Again in the fourth inning Stanislaus showed a run out. Blaine singled, stole second, and scored on Matt's hit to left field. That ended the scoring for the Rocks, but was sufficient to win the game, as Loyola scored only one run in the sixth, when Dunbar came in at bat with two outs and doubled over Tongue's head. He scored when Sullivan smashed a two-bagger to left field.

Dunbar pitched for Loyola and threw fairly good ball. The Rock-Chaws touched him for six hits and converted them into three runs. Loyola scored only one run in the sixth, when Dunbar came in at bat with two outs and doubled over Tongue's head. He scored when Sullivan smashed a two-bagger to left field.

La Nasa pitched the opener for the Rock-Chaws and allowed only twenty-four men to face him in a seven inning game. He pitched a perfect game, allowing only one run in the sixth, when Dunbar came in at bat with two outs and doubled over Tongue's head. He scored when Sullivan smashed a two-bagger to left field.

The second contest found Cotton Collier on the hill for the Rocks and Dunbar again trying the iron man stunt for Loyola.

La Nasa pitched the opener for the Rock-Chaws and allowed only twenty-four men to face him in a seven inning game. He pitched a perfect game, allowing only one run in the sixth, when Dunbar came in at bat with two outs and doubled over Tongue's head. He scored when Sullivan smashed a two-bagger to left field.

WORK AND PLAY

AT S. J. A.

Children of Mary's Fair. Last Thursday the Children of Mary gave an entertainment on the Convent grounds for the benefit of the church. The proceeds are not yet known, but judging from the crowd, we are sure it was a success and we want to thank all who helped to make it so.

Sea Sprite. There is much satisfaction throughout the High School over the fact that the Sea Sprite, the Sea Sprite, has gone to press and we will soon have a book of which we can be proud.

Complimentary to 'Our Mothers.' Mother's Day will be celebrated by the Convent girls on Thursday, May 6th, by a complimentary program in the S. J. auditorium. The program promises to be our best and so dear parents and friends we invite you to see it Thursday, May 6th, at 7:30.

Demonstration Club. The Demonstration Club, girls have had several interesting meetings lately, the chief topic at each being the "Our Mothers" for their festival next month. After several ballots the following candidates were chosen to compete for the honor: Alice Blaize, Bessie Batson, Margaret Blaize, Erin Saucier and Vivian Blaize. Now, if you want your friend to win, get out and vote for her. Each vote is five cents, and you are allowed as many votes as you wish. So, if your friend is not elected, blame yourself. The king will be chosen from the college boys and the winning candidates will then choose their court. This festival, the first of its kind in Bay St. Louis, promises to be one of the most interesting events of the season.

Can Any One Tell Us Why— Alice talks so much about moonlight nights? Margaret was confuted Monday night? Eryn is waiting for a letter from Notre Dame? Bee acts so indifferently lately? Evelyn was so scared Thursday? Mary B. enjoyed the game Tuesday evening? Vivian doesn't like to be called Vi-Vi? Kitty has such an influence over Vivian? Caroline has become a day scholar?
